

ABBAYE OF THORONET

In the heart of a wooded landscape, a remarkable Cistercian abbey, famous for its exceptional acoustics and the purity of its architecture.

The Abbey of Thoronet was built at the end of the 12th century. It is one of the “Three Sisters of Provence” (with Senanque and Silvacane Abbeys) and one of the finest examples of Cistercian architecture.

The whole monastery is a forceful expression of the simplicity and precision of the order of Saint Bernard.
